Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The National Fruit and Cider Institute: Its Origin and Objects The genesis of the movement which has resulted in the formation of the National Fruit and Cider Institute was, as every reader of this Journal should know, the initiation of research into matters relating to the manufacture of cider by the Squire Squire of Butleigh in 1893. From that season down to the season of 1902-3 the work was carried on at Butleigh under the direction of Mr. F. J. Lloyd, and has, from year to year, been duly chronicled in the pages of this Journal whilst reference has also been made to it in an article contributed by Mr. Neville Grenville to the Journal of the Royal Agricultural Society of England for 1901. Furthermore, a full Report on the investigations thus carried out has recently been prepared by Mr. Lloyd and published by the Board of Agriculture. From the commencement, the work has been financially supported both by the Bath and West Society and by the Board of Agriculture, although the earlier grants made by the Board in respect of this particular work were not specifically allocated towards it, but were merged in the general grant then made to the Society in respect of a good deal of educational work at that time undertaken by it. For the last four years, ending with March, 1903, the grant from the Board has been 100l. a year. It is unnecessary to make further reference to the early history of the movement, of which the object was the laudable one of reducing the manufacture of cider to a definite method and system, but the past and the...
