Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Political Papers on South African Topics Some men stand out in bold relief from their fellows, by the marked distinctness of their lives, and their character. In literature, in trade, and in politics, this country has some of whom colonists have felt proud, and continue to admire. The independence and honesty of John Fairbairn, as the Father of our Press, and the Founder of our Liberty, were such as to place him in the front rank, with all good men. In the next rank, Eastern and Western men alike recognised in William Hume, another whose industry, energy, perseverance, influence, and independence were marking him out as one to whom the country would owe the honour due to a son of the soil; one of such political promise as to identify him with the strong, and the leading, in the colony s political advancement. Hardworking, enthusiastic, a Separationist of the Saparationists, the East, in him, expected the realisation of uncompromising adherence to Eastern parties and Eastern politics, for Eastern welfare. With his word for his bond, and a courage which no one doubted, his constituents looked upon him as impervious to influences which have been the political death of many a good man s fame. True and fast, they confided in him as they have seldom done with others. Knowing his politics they exacted no pledges, but returned him, under the impression that he knew them and their views as well as, they believed, they knew him and his opinions. But events have shown that they did not quite understand each other. Mr. Paterson has defined the well-known axiom of representation, as applied to himself, namely,...
